

Why does the faith
of some crumble?

A close-up photograph of a light-colored concrete wall with several prominent, jagged cracks. The cracks are dark and run in various directions, some following the contours of the wall. The overall texture is rough and weathered.

What makes life crumble?

Matthew 7:13-29

A close-up photograph of a weathered, light-colored concrete wall. The surface is heavily cracked, with a prominent, jagged vertical crack running down the right side. Numerous smaller, irregular cracks are scattered across the entire surface, some forming a network of fine lines. The texture is rough and uneven, with some areas appearing more eroded than others. The lighting is somewhat uneven, highlighting the depth of the cracks and the grain of the concrete.

Don't trust in external appearance

“As for you, son of man, the children of your people are talking about you beside the walls and in the doors of the houses; and they speak to one another, everyone saying to his brother, ‘Please come and hear what the word is that comes from the Lord.’ So they come to you as people do, they sit before you as My people, and they hear your words, but they do not do them; for with their mouth they show much love, but their hearts pursue their own gain. Indeed you are to them as a very lovely song of one who has a pleasant voice and can play well on an instrument; for they hear your words, but they do not do them. (Ezekiel 33:30-32)
